Before you may proceed further with your naturalization, it is necessary to verify your arrival in the United States. For that purpose your application has been forwarded to the port where you entered, for issuance of a certificate of arrival. Applications are considered by this Service in the order of their receipt, in fairness to all aliens desiring to proceed toward naturalization. It may be several months before your application is returned, but as soon as it is, you will be appropriately notified. If you change your address please notify us, referring to the number on the enclosed receipt.
